

Remember when?

Remember when, On Feb. 9, 1966, the East Twin River in Mishicot overflowed its banks, flooding the south end of Main Street in the area which now has the athletic fields and Krause's Shopping Center? Many buildings were damaged by the water which went half-way up walls of residence near the river. In this photo, provided by Emeel E. Cigler of Mishicot, building up the left side of the street are the Laundromat, Kadow Meat Mart, Kronforst Electric, Krajnik Service Station and Krause (Holtz) Store.
